

Dear FCC:

A great deal of work went into the drafting and implementation of our strong Do Not Call law.

We know who and when to call if we require the services of these businesses. They are attempting to invade our homes, through the back door, when they are uninvited and unwanted.

If our law is amended to detract from the privacy it affords the citizens of the state of Indiana, we will make a list of those "special interest" businesses and make a concerted effort to deny them the profits of our commerce.

"If it ain't broke don't fix it"

Sincerely;
Steve Hughes
